This newly updated file reaches professionals who specialize in operating radiological equipment to produce radiographs (x-rays) of the body for diagnostic purposes. They position patient on examining table and adjust immobilization devices to obtain optimum views of specified area of the body requested by physician. They explain procedures to patient to reduce anxieties and obtain patient cooperation. They move x-ray equipment into specified position and adjust equipment controls to set exposure factors, such as time and distance, based on knowledge of radiographic exposure techniques and protocols. Some specialize in diagnostic imaging technologies such as computed tomography (CT-scan) and magnetic resonance imaging (MRI).

They are excellent prospects for medical recruitment, seminars and continuing education, books and other literature, scientific publications, new x-ray equipment and much more.

There are 36,728 records available with License Number!
